But what is UNOCI going to do with the person who doesn't respect the rules? And how can a victim complain?

Good question!
The victim can talk to an NGO in his locality, or can contact the Conduct and Discipline Team...

... at 20 23 61 00 and UNOCI will take disciplinary measures after investigation.

If the subject is a military or police officer, he will be repatriated and handed over to the authorities of his country. After being tried, he could be fired from the army ...

If confirmed, he will be definitively fired from the mission and barred from any UN mission. He can be taken into the court, if he is a civilian.

Thanks Mr ONUCI. I have to go, my aunt is waiting for me ...

Goodbye "La Bouche", but remember that ONUCI is here to HELP, SERVE and PROTECT YOU!

... or sent to prison.
